

Lockdown Concert for All Saints

All the music in this concert has been selected by members of the church family.*

The beauty of this concert is that you can listen at any time

In the evening with a glass of wine

In the afternoon with tea in the interval

You can change the order of play or even leave out some pieces altogether

And you can add your own choices!

All you need is a comfortable chair and YouTube and you are away.

Just click on the link – skip the ads if there are any – and sit back and enjoy!

Abba Thank you for the music

<https://youtu.be/0dcbw4IEY5w>

Louis Armstrong Wonderful World

<https://youtu.be/CWzrABouyeE>

Beethoven Violin Concert Third movement

<https://youtu.be/1dbOIkYtafw>

Flanders and Swan Hippopotamus song

<https://youtu.be/4zpDF3Py7r8>

John Rutter Look at the world

<https://youtu.be/nDa-Mab4SoU>

cont.../

Saint-Saens Wedding Cake Caprice
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=392rdq_bAko

Good morning' Singing in the rain
<https://youtu.be/GB2yiloEtXw>

James Galway Arrival of the Queen of Sheba
<https://youtu.be/iICAbDCWt0Q>

John Brunning Romance No 1
<https://youtu.be/O8EGJc4H5LE>

The Beatles Here comes the sun
<https://youtu.be/mc1ta1UMGeo>

John Rutter I believe in springtime
<https://youtu.be/PvpfBNsA6R4>

Contributors to this event include
Adrienne Smith, Brenda Cashell, Rachel Howie, Terry Saunders, Stephen Wadman and Vera Wadman. I'll leave you to guess who suggested each piece – you might be surprised!

Cont..../

I hope you have enjoyed this experimental concert thanks to YouTube.
Next weekend we would have been remembering the VE day celebrations with a church decorated with flowers, a musical event and a 'street party' – at least these were in the PCC's proposals for the Bank Holiday weekend.
We can't be there physically, but we can celebrate at home with a virtual concert, photos of flower and other arrangements and pictures.

If you have found this fun – how about helping to produce a VE Day concert on the same basis. You might like to send me a photograph of a flower arrangement you have made from any flowers you can find in the garden. – or even one you made earlier.

Or you may like to make an arrangement that reflects some aspect of the day – a street party, flags, bunting, - you can really let your imagination take flight. And if you have any photos of the era - either copy them with your phone camera or scan them into your computer and send them to me via email.

Send your suggestions and contributions to verawadman@btinternet.com as soon as possible so that I can create a programme for the event.

It would be lovely to be overwhelmed with your enthusiasm. 😊