

On Ascension Day.

He walks with God who turns his face to Heaven,
And keeps the blest commands by Jesus given;
His life upright,
His end untroubled peace.

..they have left their house and home, and turned pilgrims, seek a world to come, and they have met with hardship in the way and they do meet with troubles night and day. {John Bunyan}

May you follow in His footsteps,
May your path be paved with peace and love.
May your heart understand His words,
And may you share His burdens as He shares yours.
As He is to you, may you be a shining light to others,
And may you ascend ever up towards your home in heaven where he awaits.